

Friends of the Library Present:

Sylvan Roots

Tuesday, September 21
at 7pm in the Library Lecture Hall.

Sylvan Roots, a trio of Seacoast musicians, plays an eclectic mix of traditional American roots and folk songs and just enough blues to add some spice.

Fall Hours Begin
Tuesday, September 7

Monday & Tuesday 9 - 8:30
Wednesday - Friday 9 - 5:30
Saturday 9 - 5:00

Labor Day Weekend Hours

The library will be closed
Saturday, September 4 and Monday, September 6
for the holiday weekend.

Art in September

During the month
of September the Library will feature paintings by Peter Dudley.

Congratulations are in Order!

Join us in congratulating Library Director Cathy Beaudoin who has been with the Dover Library for 35 years on Sept. 1st!! Mrs. Beaudoin had various roles in the library before she became Director in 1999, including cataloging, reference, System Administrator, and Asst. Director.

Library staff is known for longevity in their roles at the Dover Library. In addition to Mrs. Beaudoin's 35th, in September Carrie Tremblay will celebrate 25 years as Reference Librarian and Kathleen Thorner celebrates 15 years as the Asst. Children's Librarian.

KICK OFF THE FALL @ YOUR LIBRARY

Upcoming Events this Fall

Coming mid-September, our new Self Service Print/Payment Station for the public PCs.

Coming Late October, our Annual Book Sale will start on Friday this year (instead of Saturday) for DPL card holders. Watch for it starting at 9am on Friday, October 29.

SATURDAY MATINEES ARE BACK!!!

September 11 Under the Mountain Rated PG13	September 18 Prince of Persia: The sands of Time Rated PG13	September 25 Robin Hood Rated PG13
---	--	---

All movies are shown in the Library Lecture Hall and start at 2pm

Congratulations go out to library patron and newly published author Larry Keenan on the publication of his two books, Big Jim: Mayor of Dover, New Hampshire and The Best of Intentions : unforeseen circumstances: an Irish family memoir. Both books are available for check out at the Dover Public Library.